

APDE AWARD (3rd EDITION)
in honour of João Mota de Campos

1. The competition for the 3rd edition of the APDE award is now open.
2. Candidates may submit papers written in Portuguese, French or English, whose subject matter covers one of the following areas, corresponding to the topics planned for the XXXII FIDE Congress to be held in Helsinki, Finland, in 2027:
 - I - Financing the Priorities of the Union: Budget, Own Resources, Common Debt, Private Investing*
 - II – The Union’s External Borders and Fundamental Rights*
 - III – Strategic Autonomy? Legal Construction of European Industrial Policies*
3. The works should be submitted by December 31st of 2026 to the e-mail address premio.apde@gmail.com.
4. The works should not exceed 90.000 characters (without spaces), which corresponds to about 50 pages.
5. The Award will consist of the payment of registration and travel expenses (air tickets) as well as accommodation at the next FIDE Congress, to be held from 19 to 22 May 2027 in Helsinki, up to a limit of € 2500 (two thousand five hundred euros).
6. The selection panel shall be designated by APDE’s Scientific Council, under the Presidency of Dr. Carlos Botelho Moniz.

For more information, please refer to the APDE Award Regulation, available at www.apde.org.pt both in Portuguese and English language version.